Northern Plains Awards Five $1000 Scholarships

(Gettysburg, SD), May 16, 2013 – Five High School Seniors recently learned they were awarded a $1000 scholarship from Northern Plains as part of the company's scholarship program for high school seniors.

The five seniors, Anna Stambach, Clay Jacob, Isabella Houck, Jenna Schweiss, and Justin Howard were among the five high school seniors awarded scholarships on behalf of local Northern Plains member owners.

Anna Stambach, daughter of Mark and Monica Stambach, of Dupree, plans to Elementary Education at South Dakota State University.

Clay Jacob, son of Gerard and Lori Jacob, plans to enroll in Agriculture Industry and Technology at Bismarck State College.

Isabella Houck, daughter of Thomas and Jake Houck, of Selby, plans to enroll in Veterinary Medicine at the University of Minnesota Morris Campus.

Jenna Schweiss, daughter of Kimberly Schweiss of Gettysburg, plans to enroll in Grassland Ecology and Wildlife Biology at University of Nebraska – Lincoln.

Justin Howard, son of Edd and Lori Howard of Ashley, plans to enroll in Medical Lab Science at Northern State University.

Scholarships were given to applicants whose high school academic performance is high, and have demonstrated the qualities of leadership, industry, integrity and good high school and community citizenship.

“We are proud to support tomorrow’s leaders,” says Todd Oster, general manager Northern Plains. “Scholarships are one way that Northern Plains continues our commitment to be leaders in the community.”

Northern Plains (www.northernplainscoop.com) is a diversified farmer owned cooperative offering grain, agronomy, feed and energy products and services. Headquartered in Gettysburg, SD, they serve more than 5,200 active customers through their eight locations in north central South Dakota and south central North Dakota.
